

Personal Journal Entry 1:

So far this semester I have already learned a lot about how to be a manager and lead a group through changing times or a new project. A few weeks ago I meet my group of project managers and recently the business analysts we will be working with. Last semester one of the other PMs was a BA with me, so I know that we work well together, and the other PM has already done so much and seems to be a great asset to the group. One thing that I like about MIS 3535 is the lack of templates given for assignments. This is interesting to me because it allows me and my team to come up with our own ideas and learn as we go from research and our experiences.
