Adam is currently a junior at Temple University. I've gotten to know Adam through our internship program. We initially brought Adam on to be an intern with Untapped, Inc. but he proved extremely early on that he was going to be a key asset to the team. He is now the Director of Research and Development and Outreach and his passion and dedication to the team cannot be overlooked. He's especially been helpful in regard to our newest venture, a website called whoseyourlandlord.com. Some of his tasks include managing and directing our social media presence, researching our industry, and reaching out to schools and news outlets about our website.

It doesn't surprise me that Adam has taken well to his new position as he has proven to be a hard worker and a person who loves to learn. He takes well to direction and is always researching on his downtime to figure out other ways he can help, or ways we can better our service. I always tell him how much I appreciate his enthusiasm and how I truly enjoy working with him. The qualities he demonstrates on a daily basis working with us will allow him to be extremely successful in the future no matter what new endeavors he decides to take on.
