ACTIVITIES

I had my first job at Chili's. By working there, I had developed some simple skills such as paying attention to detail, multitasking, resolving conflicts, and having a positive attitude. In my second year of college, I joined a rigorous dance team called the Broad Street Baadshahz. From Monday through Friday, practices would be at least 4 hours a day and would go up to 12 hours. Being on a dance team taught me many skills including leadership, communication, teamwork, managing my time, and more. I have done volunteer work for my local temple which has helped people who were in need. I also love traveling whenever I get the chance to.
