This program helped to promote literacy among young girls between the ages of 10-14. Book club meetings were held at an Assisted Living Facility, located in Ft. Washington, MD. The program involved girls reading Bible stories to the elderly and engaging in discussions to look at views of growing up "then and now" We also discussed the teachings of the word of God and how it impacts our daily lives. This program helped the girls build character and improved their reading skills. The Senior citizen's benefited from the girls' companionship.
