

Personal Journal Entry 3:

Our BAs continue to improve their scope, slowly but surely, and according to the other PM groups are ahead of the curve with JIM because they've all taken the time to get familiar with it, and start testing out what type of ideas they would like to offer TU Press' website. Between 3501 and 3504 our BAs did get a little bit over whelmed with the midterms being on the same day. Especially since they vamped up the 3501 course since last semester. Other than the minor setback between their tests or BA group continues to grow as a group and the chemistry between both our BAs and our PM group grows as well. We all get along great, and I'm excited to see what our final product comes to look like.
