

Diabetes was once known as the affluence's disease...

Now it affects people of ALL economic backgrounds.

3 kinds...

Type 1 Auto-immune ~5% No Cure	Type 2 Lifestyle ~95% Preventable Please see this!	Type 3 Pregnancy ~2% Temporary Can disappear after birth

By 2030, these countries will also be THE TOP 3 global economic powers.

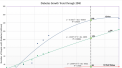

While diabetes costs in GDP just what everyone expects the most...

Top 10 speakers of diabetes health expenditures in 2015:

India did not make the list... nor are they expected to by 2030.

India has more people on GDP and what everyone expects the most...

While spending about 10x more on diabetes in relation to healthcare, India and China are still spending their resources far below their population size.

By 2030, how much of an increase in diabetes will these three countries face?

India will face the most increase by 2030!

Type 2 Solutions

United States: What are the costs?

The US is spending inefficiently. What would be an effective way to use this capital to fight diabetes?

"A structured lifestyle change program can cut the risk of developing type 2 diabetes by as much as 58%."

Is there already a program like this in place?

Where is the National DPP running?

Proposal for Merck:

1. Advise an expansion of the National DPP
2. Improve and Maximize National DPP's educational resources

China: What are the costs?

China is spreading their resources out too thin. There is also no effective diabetes program running. Where should we focus on these issues?

Proposal for Merck:

1. Advise addition of beds to Eastern China's hospitals.
2. Continue on China's expansion of these. Merck will lead the creation of a national Diabetes Prevention Program

India: What are the costs?

India does not have enough resources for their population size. How can Merck get resources to India's citizens?

44% of pharmacies in India carry insulin.

How can India get insulin to its people?

Proposal for Merck:

1. Partner with Life for a Child
2. Donate supplies
3. Enable the creation of new locations
