PROJECT EXPERIENCE

Housing vs. Income: Which States are Actually Affordable, Temple Data Analytics Club

Sep. 2025 – Dec. 2025

Team Member

- Starting at the beginning of the semester, I participated in semester-long research utilizing a U.S. Census dataset. Focusing on identifying a critical socioeconomic trend and performing an in-depth analytical deep dive. My team and I centered our research on demographics. We performed a comparative study to determine true housing affordability by indexing home costs against median household incomes.
