

My husband and I adopted our dog Bandit before we had kids so he was essentially our first child. Needless to say, we were very particular about his care. We first started working with Cynthia to take Bandit for walks while we were both at work. We quickly saw the kindness and care that Cynthia provided was unparalleled. We could see how excited Bandit was with her and how their walks actually tired him out as opposed to dog walkers who just do a quick lap around the block. When we traveled out of town, Cynthia generously took Bandit home with her. It was such a relief to know he was in good hands while we were gone. She would send us pictures and videos and we could see how relaxed and at ease he was. She even made an assortment of artistic magnets with his face that we still have on our fridge (8 years later). We couldn't have asked for better care for our dog!

"My dog definitely loved Cynthia more than he loved me! I've never seen his tail wag so much than when she walked in! It was mutual, too. Cynthia truly ADORES animals, and that always made me feel good about leaving mine in her care. I always knew they'd be happy and safe."

I found Cynthia after my dog almost died from fluid on her heart after being boarded at a very expensive and upscale establishment. I was shocked at my dog's compromised condition when picking her up from the facility and couldn't believe it wasn't detected. Cynthia's knowledge, commitment, and attention to detail of every animal she cares for - is a rare combination. She has deep intuitive knowledge and the unique ability to manifest the insights in her calling and vocation to support animals, as well as deliver peace of mind to the pet's human family.

Cynthia's passion is animals and it shows. She is warm, caring and kind. My dog Bruno loved when Cynthia watched him - sometimes I even had to bribe him to come home!

Cynthia has a way with dogs! I have a 5-year old Great Dane who is skittish with strangers and was worried about how Marley would react with a relative stranger picking her up. Cynthia knew how to approach Marley and make her feel comfortable from the get-go. They are now fast friends; Marley waits to be picked up with anticipation. She gets a full day of exercise, enjoys playing with the other dogs, and is exhausted when she gets home. I would highly recommend Cynthia!

I have really never seen my dog, Cooper, take so quickly to someone as he did to Cynthia. Knowing that Cynthia treats dogs in her care as if they were her own, very genuinely, brings me peace of mind and confidence that I when I can't be with Coop, he is the absolute best hands with Cynthia.
